

AMERICA AND ENGLAND.

The Two Nations Contrasted—American Enterprise Extolled—Interesting Views of Sir Thomas Esmond, M. P.

Sir Thomas Henry Gratton Esmond lectured before a large and distinguished audience in the historic "Round Room," Dublin, recently, his subject being "America and Americans." The Lord Mayor presided, and leading Members of Parliament, Priests and patriotic citizens occupied the platform. After recounting the amazing progress of America, materially and intellectually, Sir Thomas continued:

One of the secrets of American success is the superior education of Americans. It is also one of the secrets of America's general well-being (applause). One of the fruits of the high standard of intelligence resulting from it is that America's criminal number is barely more than one-tenth of one per cent. and her paupers something less than one-fifth of one per cent. of her entire population. The United States is undoubtedly the richest, the most progressive aggregation of humanity in existence. Unquestionably the most wholesome rich and most healthily progressive. England is at present their nearest competitor; but they leave her far behind. England is rich, no doubt. But how has she grown rich?

BY THE PLUNDER OF SEVEN CENTURIES; By the robbery of weaker nations; by the crushing out of weaker rivals; by the destruction of weaker peoples; by the imposition of her tribute upon the industry of all unable to resist her grasping avarice (applause). America has grown rich by honorable means. She has robbed no one; she has injured no one; she has not sent her fleets and armies to ravage and destroy the hearts and workshops of her rivals in the peaceful walks of trade; she has not strangled budding industries at one side of the globe to protect her manufacturers against honest competition, nor has she made a way with fire and sword on the other for the introduction of her poisonous wares to the demoralization and debasement of an entire branch of the human race. None of these crimes can be laid at America's door. Whatever she has won she has won honestly and fairly. Mankind owe her gratitude, not hatred. England has waded to greatness through the tears and blood of her victims. Her conquests are those of the bullet and sword. America's triumphs are those of peace. Her symbols of victory are the spade and ploughshare (applause). She has delved the virgin soil of her vast prairies; she has released the hidden treasures of her countless mines; she has utilized the flow of her noble rivers; she has laid her boundless forests under contribution; she has fostered and promoted by wise legislation every one of the myriad industries congenial to her diversified topography and climate. She has chained the subtle forces of nature to the oar of her peaceful progress. She has girded a continent with her iron roads. I have traveled the length and breadth of America. I have seen every phase of her civilization. I have marvelled at her limitless resources, and her boundless wealth; at her extraordinary progress and her astonishing prosperity. I have been amazed at the intellectual activity, her incomparable alertness and enterprise. I have revelled in the beauties of her matchless scenery, and I have enjoyed her unapproachable hospitality, but if I were given my choice of all her great and wondrous blessings, if some potent wizard were to offer me the selection for Ireland of the best of America's possessions, I would say without one moment's hesitation: "Give me the Government of the country." (loud cheers).

THE GOVERNMENT OF AMERICA

Has made her what she is. If she were governed as we are governed—no matter how great her wealth, no matter what her resources—nothing could have saved her from misery and misfortune as deep as ours. (Cheers). An Irishman whose experience of government is derived from the thing so-called under which he lives, from the loathsome system of social leprosy and administrative corruption which English rule in Ireland has engendered, cannot understand the nature of that Constitution which is at once the foundation and the bulwark of American greatness. He has been so long ground down, treated as a self-sprung, insulted, spat upon by the official rascaldom which infests this country, that he can but approximately estimate the character and meaning of a government which exists by the consent and works for the good of the governed. (Cheers). His ideals of the machinery of administration are the baton and the backshot, of which he has periodic experience. His notion of the law is of an uncomfortable fact, always waiting for his protection, always at hand for his persecution. His understanding of justice is derived from hearsay, from tradition; and his enjoyment of liberty is chastened and purified by periodical fasts, and indeed, latterly, by total abstinence. In America they have graduated in a different school. There they give things their proper names. They do not call military despotism constitutional government, nor perpetual coercion constitutional freedom. They do not hold

MURDERERS AND THIEVES THE CHAMPIONS OF LAW AND ORDER, Nor the shedding of criminals the administration of justice. With them the laws are made by those who live under them, and the administrators of the law are the servants not the masters of the people. In America democracy has reached the highest development it has yet obtained. At every point through all its gradations, the huge structure of Government which spreads from the Atlantic to the Pacific is acutely sensitive to public opinion. Every public position, from that of Vestryman to that of Senator, from that of Police Magistrate to that of President, is contested by popular suffrage, and is held at popular pleasure. Throughout the American Republic every man has a vote, and only one. Every man is a sovereign. Every man has an equal voice in the government of the land. No man is denied the right of participation in the conduct of public affairs. There are none of those senseless and unjust anomalies which obtain with us, and to which usage has given a spurious sanctity, by which puppets are placed at the head of national affairs merely by the accident of birth; by which incapables are charged with the control of national destinies, and non-entities with the safe-guarding of national interests, for no better reason than that they enjoy the very questionable honor of possessing what is called royal blood. There is none of this folly in America. The American commonwealth knows none of these bars to progress. There the interests of the many are not made secondary to the supposed interests of the few. The principle upon which the American Constitution is founded is that all men are born free and equal, and this principle is carried in practice to the fullest extent. There are no guilds of hereditary robbers there, who, because their fathers and grandfathers have fattened upon the plunders of the State, claim a vested right to the entail of robbery.

IN AMERICA EVERY MAN WHO WORKS, Every man who devotes his intelligence or his energy to the increase of the national wealth or enlightenment, and to the consequent increase of the national welfare, finds nothing to hinder him, nothing to prevent either the free scope of his activity or the legitimate enjoyment of its results; while, on the other hand, the man who idles, the man who wastes, the man who seeks to live upon the brains or labor of other men, the man who fails to turn his opportunities to the best advantage, is held a nuisance, a pest, and public opinion unanimously condemns him as a danger to society, an enemy to the State (cheers). The application of some of these sturdy Republican theories would do us no harm over here. For my part, my brief experience of liberty in America has opened my eyes to the depth and degradation of the slavery into which Ireland has fallen. It has increased my hatred and loathing for the foul and rotten system, and the ill-favored, disreputable, cowardly clique, known as the Government and Governors of Ireland. It has stimulated my longing to enjoy and strengthened by determination to obtain, a system of government for my own land as faithful, as free and as representative as the Government of the United States (loud cheers). We shall live to see such a government established in Ireland. Our sympathizers in America will second our efforts to obtain it. But let us not forget that the more vigorously we carry on the fight the more speedily will it be ended, the more we rely upon ourselves, and the less we depend upon others, the more plausibly shall we prove our claim to National Independence (loud and prolonged cheer).

CABINET MAKING.

General Harrison Speaks His Mind to an Inquisitive Coffer.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 15th.—A venture some reporter called at General Harrison's residence to-day to enquire into the truthfulness concerning the reported placing of Blaine in his Cabinet. The General in reply impressively said: "I have informed the press that I would have nothing to say at any time. I supposed it was understood, and if it is not, I want it thoroughly understood all around that I cannot and will not allow myself to be placed in a position either affirming or denying any reports that may be put in circulation by the newspapers. It makes no difference what is the nature of the report, or through what channel it comes, I cannot allow myself to be troubled with questions about such things. You gentlemen may go on with your speculation as to what will be done, but I must not be asked to confirm and deny the reports put in circulation. I say this in all kindness, but I hope it will be understood all around that I will not allow myself to be placed in a position determining the trustworthiness of any report no matter how important or from what source it comes."

Harrison's manner indicated that he was surprised at the report and considerably annoyed as he held the dispatch in his hand he trembled with suppressed excitement.

DON'T DO IT.

The Eureka Sentinel, of the 15th, remarks:

We hear that an effort is to be made at the coming session of the Legislature to increase the number of our District Judges from three to five. The chief object is to make more places for needy lawyers. It should not be done. Any reform in our judicial system that does not look to the complete abolition of the Supreme Court at the earliest date possible, will be founded in error. Our Supreme Court costs more than it is worth. It has nothing to do. We should have, for the present, four District Judges and no Supreme Court as a separate tribunal. The District Judges should meet in banc twice a year, and the three not participating in the trial of the case below, should hear and determine every question of appeal. This plan would work quite as well as the present system, and save the taxpayers forty thousand dollars a year. We don't want more officers, but fewer Legislators who feel any interest in the welfare of the State will strive to remove Constitutional obstacles that stand in the way of retrenchment in all directions. Cheaper government, State county and municipal, is the pressing need of the hour in Nevada.

Mining in Washoe County.

Work on the Harris mine near old Washoe City is being vigorously prosecuted. A tunnel is now being forwarded that, when completed, will have a length of 700 feet, that will tap the vein about 300 feet deep. The Smith boys are developing an extension of what is known as the Brighton mine and are now running a tunnel that will tap the ledge at the depth, probably, of 200 feet. The miners in that section claim that Washoe district will have a bright future. All they want for the future success of the Jumbo district and the field in the neighborhood of Washoe is a good mill and the thorough development of that section is certain.

The Adelaide Copper Company.

The Silver State says: The Adelaide Copper Company, whose mines and furnaces are situated about twelve miles south of Golconda, are erecting substantial hoisting works on the main shaft of the mine. These works will soon be completed, and sinking will be resumed and rapidly pushed during the winter. Other levels will be opened up and the ore body, which is now the most extensive body of copper ore on the coast, will be further developed. The machinery of the hoisting works is sufficiently powerful to raise the ore and work the mine to a depth of a thousand feet.

Run Away.

The team attached to the Riverside Hotel has run away Sunday night and though no one was injured the vehicle was badly wrecked. The horses made a "bee line" for the stable, and coming in contact with the water trough in front of their home jumped it, but the wagon not possessing the same agility stuck, and a broken axle and general demoralization followed.

The Influx of Capitalists.

The Winnemucca Silver State says a party of four capitalists from Chicago, and one from San Jose, California, left there Friday for White Horse, to look at the stock ranch of Todhunter & Devine at that place, with a view of purchasing it. The property, including cattle and horses, is worth about a million dollars.

The papers are advocating raising more poultry and eggs instead of so much fruit. Every one who has to lay a holiday turkey or who eats eggs at ruling rates will see merit in the recommendation.

The steamer City of New York, which arrived in San Francisco from Hongkong Friday, was the first steamer which has arrived from the Orient for a number of years without a single Chinaman aboard bound for that port.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The month of November and December to the 13th inst. have been pleasant and most agreeable that has ever been experienced in Eastern Nevada. At least so says the mythical individual known as the oldest inhabitant. The thermometer only reaching, on a few occasions, zero.

The same sage authority predicts that a severe winter is in store for us. But from my own experience for the past 26 winters, I am of the opinion that but little faith should be given to the prognostications of this "individual," or the Clerk of the weather, as they are both as un-reliable as Democratic promises before election. After all, who knows but what we will have a mild and pleasant winter with welcome showers in May and June, affording an abundance of moisture and assuring good crops of grass for hay and pasture purposes, notwithstanding the recent rain storm that finished up with an inch or two of snow in the valleys and lowlands.

The rain commenced in this locality in a quiet, easy sort of a way, and continued so all night. Yesterday the clouds rolled back, giving us a clear, blue sky, and revealing the fact that, while the storm seemed to be a mild affair, in the valleys large amounts of snow had been deposited upon the snowy white peaks of Bruneau, Goshute, Goose Creek, Ruby, Diamond, Humboldt, White Pine, and other neighboring ranges. Elko continues to be miserably dull, then duller, and now she seems to have reached the superlative degree of dullest.

The town seems to have been finished and that a result that other more pretentious towns have been unable to achieve.

During the past summer there were some 60 large freight teams plying between Elko and Tuscara with their two to three back-axles. This seemed for the time-being to give the place a prosperous look and business air. But as these teams are all, or about all, gone into winter quarters, we have again fallen back into a dreamy state. There seems to be but little public enterprise among our citizens. There is, however, a movement on foot to supply the town with pure fresh water from Kittredges canyon, a distance of some 6 miles north-east from Elko. It is promised that the work of construction will be commenced at early spring, by three of our live business men. The water will be conveyed in iron pipes to a distributing reservoir. Hereafter the water supply of the town has been by an open ditch from the Humboldt river, the source being owned and controlled by Hop Sing Company (Chinamen).

But as the supply has been meagre and the quality of water very impure, hence the new W. C. Company. I wish it success.

The recent abrupt adjournment of the District Court has caused some feeling among lawyers and litigants in consequence of the causes that led to the adjournment. An important case was being examined. The North Commonwealth vs. found treasure mines situated in Tuscara, Elko Co., Nevada.

Our ever energetic and go-aheaditive neighbor of the upper level (Tuscara) is still on the high road of prosperity. The continued increasing activity in and around the mines and mills, together with the general business bustle among the merchants and business men of the town, the immense stock of all kinds of milling and mining supplies and provisions, the ceaseless heavy shipments of bullion, all bespeak of the solid and permanent prosperity of the camp, notwithstanding the fact that large quantities of ore has been taken out and milled during the past season from all of the principle mines, yet the ore bodies now in sight seem greater, and the probability of their permanence is more encouraging, and the actual amount of pay ore now in sight in the several openings, drifts, uprisers and winzes, than at any other period heretofore in the history of the District.

The population of Tuscara to-day is not less than 3,000 to 3,500. The recently finished water works has added much, not only to the comfort of its citizens in furnishing pure water, but in the protection of the property of Tuscara. The capital invested in the construction of this water works will pay a handsome dividend to the owners thereof.

Elko's Present Outlook—Tuscara a Prosperous and Growing Camp.

Elko, Dec. 14, 1888.

After all, who knows but what we will have a mild and pleasant winter with welcome showers in May and June, affording an abundance of moisture and assuring good crops of grass for hay and pasture purposes, notwithstanding the recent rain storm that finished up with an inch or two of snow in the valleys and lowlands.

The rain commenced in this locality in a quiet, easy sort of a way, and continued so all night. Yesterday the clouds rolled back, giving us a clear, blue sky, and revealing the fact that, while the storm seemed to be a mild affair, in the valleys large amounts of snow had been deposited upon the snowy white peaks of Bruneau, Goshute, Goose Creek, Ruby, Diamond, Humboldt, White Pine, and other neighboring ranges. Elko continues to be miserably dull, then duller, and now she seems to have reached the superlative degree of dullest.

The town seems to have been finished and that a result that other more pretentious towns have been unable to achieve.

During the past summer there were some 60 large freight teams plying between Elko and Tuscara with their two to three back-axles. This seemed for the time-being to give the place a prosperous look and business air. But as these teams are all, or about all, gone into winter quarters, we have again fallen back into a dreamy state. There seems to be but little public enterprise among our citizens. There is, however, a movement on foot to supply the town with pure fresh water from Kittredges canyon, a distance of some 6 miles north-east from Elko. It is promised that the work of construction will be commenced at early spring, by three of our live business men. The water will be conveyed in iron pipes to a distributing reservoir. Hereafter the water supply of the town has been by an open ditch from the Humboldt river, the source being owned and controlled by Hop Sing Company (Chinamen).

But as the supply has been meagre and the quality of water very impure, hence the new W. C. Company. I wish it success.

The recent abrupt adjournment of the District Court has caused some feeling among lawyers and litigants in consequence of the causes that led to the adjournment. An important case was being examined. The North Commonwealth vs. found treasure mines situated in Tuscara, Elko Co., Nevada.

Our ever energetic and go-aheaditive neighbor of the upper level (Tuscara) is still on the high road of prosperity. The continued increasing activity in and around the mines and mills, together with the general business bustle among the merchants and business men of the town, the immense stock of all kinds of milling and mining supplies and provisions, the ceaseless heavy shipments of bullion, all bespeak of the solid and permanent prosperity of the camp, notwithstanding the fact that large quantities of ore has been taken out and milled during the past season from all of the principle mines, yet the ore bodies now in sight seem greater, and the probability of their permanence is more encouraging, and the actual amount of pay ore now in sight in the several openings, drifts, uprisers and winzes, than at any other period heretofore in the history of the District.

The population of Tuscara to-day is not less than 3,000 to 3,500. The recently finished water works has added much, not only to the comfort of its citizens in furnishing pure water, but in the protection of the property of Tuscara. The capital invested in the construction of this water works will pay a handsome dividend to the owners thereof.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The month of November and December to the 13th inst. have been pleasant and most agreeable that has ever been experienced in Eastern Nevada. At least so says the mythical individual known as the oldest inhabitant. The thermometer only reaching, on a few occasions, zero.

The same sage authority predicts that a severe winter is in store for us. But from my own experience for the past 26 winters, I am of the opinion that but little faith should be given to the prognostications of this "individual," or the Clerk of the weather, as they are both as un-reliable as Democratic promises before election. THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Riverside Avenue Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno. Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State, and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.
